

OCTOBER 2013

Norco IMC invites you to take a look back at Halloween throughout the years at Norco College.

Faculty, staff, and students alike have been celebrating the holiday on campus since the first year that Norco College opened its doors.

In October 1991, the College celebrated its first Halloween at the newly-built campus. The theme paid homage to the city of Norco's fame as "Horse Town U.S.A." with its hay bale decorations, corn stalks, and a Headless Horseman (complete with horse fly swatter).

As early as Halloween 1994, the celebrations turned from a harvest atmosphere to a more traditional Halloween festival with games, candy, and fun booths manned by students, staff, and faculty.

Norco College invited children and the entire community to join the festivities. As time passed, this tradition has been upheld with the Harvest Festival providing a fun and safe experience for everyone.
