

JULY 2013

Norco IMC invites you to take a look back to the first Provost of Norco College, Dr. Marie Pepicello.

Dr. Pepicello joined the staff on June 25, 1990 and took the reins of the campus under construction.

"You don't often get to see something from the beginning," said Marie Pepicello after she toured the buildings being built in September 1990.

She grew up in Texas where she earned her B.A. from the University of Texas and M.S. from Lamar University, both in Mathematics. She held her Ph.D. in Mathematics Education from Arizona State University. She was the Dean of Instruction at San Joaquin Delta College before becoming Provost at Norco.

Dr. Pepicello said that she liked the "decision-making and the excitement of administration."

She held the position of Provost for 3 years and saw the college through its early years, opening the campus and graduating its first class of students.
