IV. Action Items:

V. Discussion Items:

a. Legacy Report to ISPC: Stan Tyler and Eric Betancourt met with ISPC to discuss how Legacy's statement of purpose meets with the college strategic goals. The meeting went well, the VP of Business Services would like to see representation from business services or facilities. ISPC was made aware of activities that have taken place and of future activities that Legacy is planning. One of the items that was questioned was the climate survey. This is something that needs to be planned out and discussed with Dr. Aycock. Jesse Lopez offered to do some research to see what other campuses are doing with campus climate surveys.

b. Day of Inclusiveness 4/21/16: Time: Committee agreed that time should be 10:30am-12:30pm since Read to Succeed has an event that begins at 12:30pm. Our guest Elan Sanlona mentioned that ASNC will be having a Spring Fling Social celebration the same day to contribute with Day of Inclusiveness. Damon is working on alternative locations to view the author that will be present at 12:30pm. So far will be viewed in CSS 217, CSS 219 and in the library; it might be streamed in other locations depending on attendance.

Food: Committee was able to rank the food options so that free food can be given to attendees. Committee ranked Miguel Junior burritos as first option and burgers from the corral as a second option.

Music: Kim Kamerin had a conflict with schedule but Angela Tabor might be able to accommodate by having some students play music for 25 minutes. She is looking to see if her new students will be ready to perform by then. We will also have a speaker set up to play music in between.

Video: Ruth is available in the morning from 9am-10am to interview some students about what diversity means to them. She has a prior commitment with Read to Succeed but is willing to help for 1 hour.

c. Spring Fling Social: ASNC will have some booths set up and a possible photo booth along with rock climbing and other fun activities for students. Committee thinks that this event will attract more students so that Legacy can hand out lanyards, bracelets, and pens to promote diversity. Some booths will set up to promote diversity. There will be a winning club and a prize will be chosen later.

d. Diversity Video Contest: Brittany will bring up new deadline at next ICC meeting, the new deadline is May 9th. Some students will be working on their video during the Day of Inclusiveness event.

e. Legacy Logo: Jesse was able to bring revised options, committee viewed them and brought up the fact that it must say Norco Legacy.
