The date for which case statistics and hospital data were reported. Hospital COVID data are self-reported through a portal managed by the California Hospital Association and pulled at 2pm. COVID case statistics are reported by local health departments to CalREDIE and are pulled at 2pm. Hospital data and case statistics are integrated by the California Department of Technology and made available through the Open Data Portal the following morning. CA Open Data Portal is at least 24 Hours behind although a backlog of new case reports at the State level has ostensibly been cleared, some County dashboards still contain notes that indicate data are missing. *California-Demographics.com made by Cubit – a demographic data provider & census.gov

Forecast Discussion

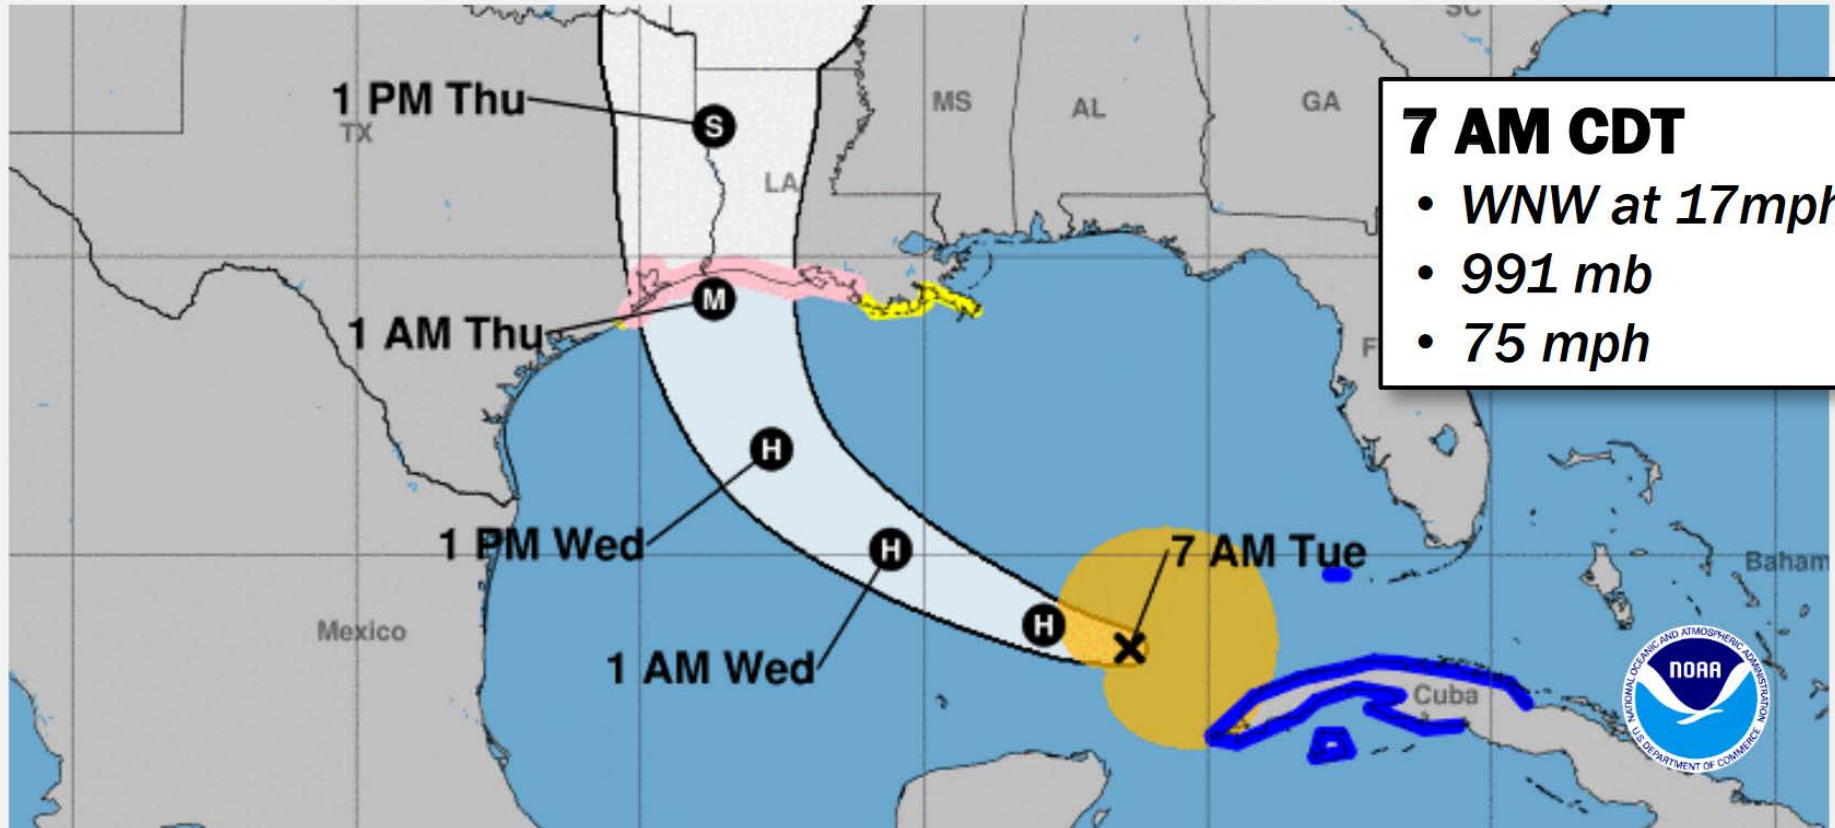

A gradual warming trend will commence today region-wide, with the high temperatures peaking Wednesday and Thursday in the deserts and inland valleys. Humid conditions will persist in coastal areas through the end of the work week but inland areas will trend drier. A cooling trend is expected for the weekend into next week. Isolated thunderstorms are possible this afternoon across the mountains and desert slopes. Lightning, small hail, strong erratic winds and localized flash flooding will be the main hazards with any storms that develop.

Flood Hazard Messages

(associated with T.S. Laura)

- Rainfall from Laura is expected to impact east TX through central LA Wednesday night and move northward into eastern Oklahoma and Arkansas on Thursday. Expected storm totals of 4 to 8 inches, with isolated maximum amounts of 12 inches, will cause widespread flash and urban flooding, small streams and creeks to overflow their banks, and minor to isolated moderate river flooding.
- Interests in this region should continue to monitor the forecast and ensure they have their flood plan in place.
- Late week, heavy rainfall from the remnants of Laura may impact areas of the mid-Mississippi, Tennessee, and Lower Ohio Valleys where wet antecedent conditions exist. These regions should continue to monitor the forecast.
